

THE SOUTH COAST IS NOT A DESTINATION, IT'S A JOURNEY.

Stretching from Wollongong to Pambula near the Victorian border, the South Coast Ale Trail delivers a diverse range of craft breweries as it winds its way along some of the country's most beautiful coastline. The trail stretches for more than 370kms along the South Coast of NSW, so take your time, and soak it all in.

Start your journey with a trip along Grand Pacific Drive, and the iconic Sea Cliff Bridge, on your way to Resin or a spot of paragliding at Stanwell Park and take in some of the most exhilarating views of the Illawarra coastline before you visit Reub Goldberg. Visit the Nan Tien Temple just down the road from Seeker Brewing, or take The Grotto Walk on the banks of the Shoalhaven River in North Nowra, near South Yeast Brewing.

Check out the white sand beaches of Huskisson or take a whale watching cruise in Jervis Bay. Take a bird's eye view of the stunning coastline from Moruya if you are up for sky diving or you can see it in the comfort of a sea plane, before some beers at Broulee Brewhouse.

Visit the National Trust-classified town of Central Tilba with its historic buildings like the Dromedary Hotel, home of Tilba Brewing Co. Take in the views of the sacred Mount Gulaga on your way to Bermagui and take a swim in the iconic Blue Pool before visiting Camel Rock Brewery.

Finish off with some of the coast's finest seafood with fresh Pambula oysters and beers from Longstocking Brewery. There is so much to see and do, you will want to come back again.

DRINK LOCAL, DRINK FRESH

As our friends at Reub Goldberg say, "A beer should be drunk in the shadow of the brewery in which it was made" but if that is not possible, we recommend you source your beer from one of these retailers.
